The registration certificates for the above registrations are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

5. Each of the registrations referenced in Paragraph 4 herein are valid, subsisting and in full force and effect and therefore constitute conclusive evidence of the validity of the marks therein and of KMC's exclusive right to use said marks in connection with the identified goods and services. Moreover, certain of said registrations are incontestable pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1065.

6. Due to KMC's longstanding use and registration of its PING® mark in connection with a wide variety of goods and services, consumers have come to know and expect KMC as the source of a wide variety of goods and services under and in connection with the PING® mark.

7. KMC's PING® mark is inherently distinctive and serves to distinguish KMC and its wide variety of goods and services from those of others and to distinguish the source of KMC's goods and services.

8. KMC, itself and through its predecessors-in-interest and permitted licensees, has expended substantial amounts of time, money and effort in advertising and promoting KMC's goods and services offered under and in connection with the PING® mark. As a result, KMC has developed substantial goodwill in the PING® mark.

9. By nature of the inherent distinctiveness of KMC's PING® mark, the long duration and extensive use of the mark on and in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, provision, offer for sale and sale of KMC's goods and services, and the strong recognition and reputation of KMC and its PING® mark among the relevant trade, consumers and the relevant purchasing public, as being the source of origin of KMC's high quality goods and services, KMC's PING® mark has become famous the mark achieved such fame well prior to March 24, 2011.

10. InnoGoods applied for registration of the alleged mark PINGI for "chemicals used in desiccation and dehumidification, namely, moisture control chemicals in the form of granules that absorb and release moisture to control relative humidity," in International Cl. 1, "dehumidifiers, dryers for removing moisture from air; evaporators; humidifiers," in International Cl. 11, and "plastic containers for household use," in International Cl. 21, all under U.S. Trademark App. Serial No. 85/275,374, filed on March 24, 2011, based on InnoGoods' alleged bona fide intent to use the alleged mark in commerce.

11. When InnoGoods filed its U.S. Trademark App. Serial No. 85/275,374, it was on constructive notice of KMC's prior and exclusive rights in the PING® mark by virtue of KMC's federal registrations for those marks, pursuant to Section 22 of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §1072.

12. InnoGoods' alleged PINGI mark is substantially identical to KMC's PING® mark in sight, sound and commercial impression.
13. InnoGoods' alleged PINGI mark and at least some of KMC's prior trademark registrations both recite similar and/or complimentary goods and services.
14. Upon information and belief, InnoGoods' goods and at least some of KMC's goods and services are directed to the same class of purchasers.
15. Upon information and belief, InnoGoods' goods and at least some of KMC's goods and services travel in the same channels of commerce.
16. Upon information and belief, InnoGoods has not alleged use of PINGI in commerce. Moreover, KMC's filing date for each of the registrations in Paragraph 4 above predates the filing date of InnoGoods' U.S. Trademark App. Serial No. 85/275,374. Accordingly, KMC is believed to be the senior user and registrant and priority is not at issue in this proceeding.
17. The registration by InnoGoods of PINGI for "chemicals used in desiccation and dehumidification, namely, moisture control chemicals in the form of granules that absorb and release moisture to control relative humidity," in International Cl. 1, "dehumidifiers, dryers for removing moisture from air; evaporators; humidifiers," in International Cl. 11 and "plastic containers for household use," in International Cl. 21, will enable InnoGoods to utilize and trade on the goodwill established by KMC in its valuable PING® mark over the past five decades.
18. KMC believes and alleges that InnoGoods' alleged PINGI mark, when applied to the goods and services in U.S. Trademark App. Serial No. 85/275,374, is likely to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive, and will deceive and mislead the trade and the purchasing public into believing that InnoGoods' goods are the same goods and services of KMC, or that InnoGoods' goods are sponsored, approved or endorsed by KMC, or that InnoGoods is authorized, licensed or controlled by KMC, or that InnoGoods is in some other way related to KMC.

19. InnoGoods' alleged mark is not registrable under Section 2(d) of the Lanham Act in view of KMC's prior, continuous and ongoing use and registration of its PING® mark.

20. KMC believes and alleges that InnoGoods' alleged PINGI mark, when applied to the goods and services in U.S. Trademark App. Serial No. 85/275,374, has or is likely to dilute the distinctive nature of KMC's PING® mark by lessening the ability and capacity of that mark to identify and distinguish KMC as the sole source of origin of its high quality goods and services and/or by lessening the extensive and valuable goodwill, quality and honor that is associated with KMC's PING® mark.

21. KMC believes and alleges that InnoGoods' alleged PINGI mark is not registrable under Section 43(c) of the Lanham Act in view of KMC's prior, continuous and ongoing use and registration of its famous PING® mark.
